Session Two: Antonym and Reading Comprehension

Session Three: Analytical Writing: Making an Argument

Session Four: Analytical Writing: Critiquing an Argument

Session Five: Quantitative Reasoning

Session Six: Quantitative Reasoning

For additional information, contact Dixie Shafer: (shafer@augsborg.edu).

Subject: How to Get and Stay Fit
Submitter: Joyce Pfaff, Associate Professor, Health-Physical Education

Message: Come get your fitness questions answered and sign up for a "personal training program session." This is an informal, non-workout session for you to come and get information about our workout facilities. Sessions will be held on Monday, Sept. 17 and Tuesday Sept. 18 at noon in the conference room (3rd floor, Kennedy Center). For more information, e-mail pfaff@augsborg.edu.

These two sessions are identical, so please choose the one that best fits your schedule.

Subject: Join Augsburg in the Minneapolis CROP Walk
Submitter: Joanna Flaten, Student

Message: Join with other Auggies to support the Church World Service's annual CROP (Communities Responding to Overcome Poverty) Walk, a symbolic walk of solidarity to raise funds for international development and sustainable agriculture projects as well as the good work of local organizations. This year's local beneficiaries happen to include the Brian Coyle Center's foodshelf, which we've pledged to support in the past.
