

The Doctor of Nursing Practice at Augsburg will provide a venue for the development of nursing students prepared to enter generalist and advanced transcultural nursing practice in the 21st century that is consistent with the college's mission.

My thanks to Dr. Cheryl Leuning and the faculty and staff of the Department of Nursing on this success and for their diligent work on this proposal, but also for their dedication to the practice of nursing as Augsburg prepares the next generation of leaders in the nursing profession.
