Common Table: Panel Discussion Today

SUBMITTED BY RACHEL JOY SVANOE, COMMON TABLE COORDINATOR, SABO CENTER FOR CITIZENSHIP AND LEARNING

Panel Discussion: Local Leaders Strengthening Communities Through the Arts!

TODAY, September 25 from 4-6 p.m.

The Common Table team will welcome three local artists for a panel discussion about the powerful ways in which they use their various art forms as tools for social change! Come meet Nicole M Smith, Jamil Jude, and Ricardo Levins Morales and get a taste of the ways we continue to use this space for learning from the brilliant work of folks applying their skills for the public good all around the Twin Cities. Light refreshments will be provided. Co-hosted by the Common Table team and the Theater Arts Department.

Book Panel and Discussion.

FRIDAY, September 26th, 3-4:30 p.m.

Join author Beth Baker and a panel of local leaders doing related work for a discussion of her book, "With a Little Help from Our Friends: Creating Community as We Grow Older (published by Vanderbilt University Press.) The book focuses on innovative alternatives being created by baby boomers as they enter retirement, alternatives that allow them to avoid the traditional options of large senior complexes, etc. It describes specific experiments from across the country that try to balance independence and community as one grows older. Co-hosted by Professor Ben Denkinger and friends of the author.

Flu Shots on Campus - Monday

SUBMITTED BY DIANNE DETLOFF, ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT, COUNSELING AND HEALTH PROMOTION

OCHP welcomes the MN Visiting Nurse Association on Monday 9/29 for the annual flu shot clinic. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to get a flu shot as the flu season is soon to be upon us. The MVNA will be administering the flu shots from 10:30 - 2:00 p.m. in the Riverside Room.

Most insurances are accepted or you can pay $30 cash or check. The clinic is a walk-in clinic so no appointment is needed.

Help keep yourself, roommates, friends, classmates and the Augsburg community healthy this flu season. Get your flu shot Monday 9/29.

Any questions, please call Dianne in the OCHP office at 612-330-1707. Please be sure to bring your insurance card and a photo ID to the flu shot clinic.
