

bring the documents to the truck for you. An Augsburg ID will be required, as we unfortunately cannot make this a community event.

📅 March 23, 2017 / ✉ Email a correction for this post

Teaching and Learning

Considering Grad School? Register Now for On-Campus GRE Prep

submitted by ricomem@augsborg.edu

Going to graduate school by the Fall of 2017 or 2018? Most masters and doctoral programs require the Graduate Records Examination (GRE) for admission. GRE Prep is offered this summer on campus through the Office of Undergraduate Research and Graduate Opportunity. You'll learn the most effective ways tackle the Verbal, Quantitative, and Analytical Writing sections on the GRE.

The course meets Mondays and Wednesdays from 5-7:30 PM for four and a half weeks (May 17th – June 19th). The cost is only $100, which includes test prep materials; this is a fraction of the cost when compared to similar classroom GRE prep courses offered by Kaplan or the Princeton Review who charge over $1,000.

Alums and staff are also welcome to register.

Online registration is now open at the following website: <http://www.augsburg.edu/urgo/grad/gre-prep/>

Questions? Contact Dixie Shafer, URGO Director: shafer@augsborg.edu

📅 March 23, 2017 / ✉ Email a correction for this post

New Theology and Public Leadership Degree

submitted by myers@augsborg.edu

The Religion department will be launching a new degree in Theology and Public Leadership in the fall of 2017. This degree program will be replacing the Youth and Family Ministry Degree. This new major will include concentrations in Youth Studies, Leadership and Management, Community Engagement, Worship and Music, Environmental Stewardship, Advocacy and Public Policy, Human Service, and Cross-Cultural Relations. We are excited for this new endeavor and for the leaders it will produce for our faith communities. Please visit our website for more information.

<http://www.augsburg.edu/religion/tp/>

📅 March 23, 2017 / ✉ Email a correction for this post

New Youth Studies Minor

submitted by myers@augsborg.edu

Do you love working with children, youth or young adults?

If so, you should consider becoming a Youth Studies minor. This minor is designed to pair well with any other major including Political Science, HPE, Education, Psychology, Sociology, Social Work, Theology and Public Leadership, etc. There are some great classes being offered in this minor next year, including a class in the UK! So take a look at our website to learn more.

<http://www.augsburg.edu/youth-studies/>

📅 March 23, 2017 / ✉ Email a correction for this post

Paideia Faculty & Staff Development Summer Events

submitted by lloyd@augsborg.edu